

MADISON & LILA SELF MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

SELF MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION | Spring 2024

The Madison and Lila Self Memorial Scholarship is a merit-based scholarship that recognizes outstanding seniors from the University of Kansas who will be transitioning into their first year of a master's or doctoral degree program at KU in the fall semester. This scholarship award provides each recipient with $10,000 for their first year, with half payable to the student at the beginning of the first semester of enrollment in a graduate program (fall/$5,000), and half payable at the beginning of the second semester of enrollment (spring/$5,000). This scholarship is applied directly to the student's tuition and fees bill.

In addition to funding, Self Memorial Scholars have access to a $1,000 professional development award and participation in a Scholar Development Program. The Scholar Development Program is a distinguishing feature of the Self Memorial Scholarship. Madison and Lila Self intended for the program to orient Scholars and enhance their vision of potential professional careers. This program provides general education and training in career development, communication, and leadership to assist Scholars in their preparation for future leadership roles, complementing the specialized education and training provided in their graduate program. Each Scholar, by accepting the scholarship award, recognizes the benefits of the Scholar Development Program and makes a commitment to participate. The program time commitment is approximately 30 hours per academic year (fall and spring semesters), plus any required preparation. To continue to hold the Self Memorial Scholarship, a Scholar must make satisfactory progress towards their degree, remain in good academic standing, and be an active participant in the Scholar Development Program.

Each Scholar who is selected must have demonstrated success as an undergraduate student and potential for success in graduate education. Self Memorial Scholars are selected because they have shown achievement in leadership and scholarship, and possess "the ability to envision and attain goals that require exceptional energy and tenacity." Interest in lifelong learning, professional development, and joining a cohort of interdisciplinary graduate students is essential for a Self Memorial Scholar.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Complete the Self Memorial Scholarship application form online
2. Provide an updated resume (PDF attachment)
3. Provide Self Memorial Scholarship personal statement (PDF attachment—see requirements below)
4. Recommendation from a KU faculty or staff member (Recommender will receive a link to the recommendation form)

Resume

The resume should highlight experiences and significant achievements from work, school, volunteer projects, and extracurricular activities. Include awards, honors, memberships, positions held, and research experiences.

Self Memorial Scholar Personal Statement

Before beginning, review the Self Memorial Scholarship website and the “Self Memorial Scholar Profile” below. We recognize that this is a financial opportunity; however, this is your opportunity to demonstrate why you want to continue your education at the University of Kansas and become a Self Memorial Scholar.

Self Memorial Scholar Profile

The ideal scholarship candidate will have demonstrated their success as an undergraduate student and communicated their potential for success in graduate education. Self Memorial Scholars are selected due to their achievement in leadership and scholarship. They should possess “the ability to envision and attain goals that require exceptional energy and tenacity.” The ideal candidate is interested in personal development and lifelong learning and is committed to participation in the Scholar Development Program.

The personal statement should be one to two pages, in 12-point font, and double-spaced. Your personal statement must address the following points:

- Highlight your successes and challenges as an undergraduate student at KU and communicate your potential for success as a graduate student.
- Why have you decided to continue your education at KU as a graduate student?
- What are your long-term goals and how do these match with the Self Memorial Scholarship?
- Provide evidence of how you have exemplified energy and tenacity to attain your long-term goals.
- What is your commitment to lifelong learning?
- What do you hope to gain from the Scholar Development Program?

Recommendation Form

Students are required to submit a recommendation that is specific to the Self Memorial Scholarship (separate from letters of recommendation for graduate school application).

Recommendation must be provided by a KU faculty or staff who can speak to your achievement in scholarship and leadership. As a student admitted into a graduate program at KU, you have demonstrated your potential as a graduate student. This recommendation should address your match to the Self Memorial Scholar Profile.

Instructions for Recommendation

The recommender will receive a link to complete the recommendation form after the student has submitted the application. The below questions will be included in the recommendation form.

1. Briefly explain your relationship with the applicant:
  - a. How long have you known the applicant?
  - b. In what capacity have you interacted with the applicant?
  - c. How would you compare this student to others? Provide a rationale for comparison.
2. Provide an assessment of the applicant's match to the Self Memorial Scholar profile:
  - a. Achievement in leadership and scholarship as an undergraduate student
  - b. Ability to and evidence of envisioning and attaining goals
  - c. Commitment to personal development and lifelong learning
  - d. Potential for success in graduate education
3. Provide an overall recommendation:
  - a. Based on your interactions, would you award this student a Self Memorial Scholarship?
